

The Cannan Institute

Dinner Speaker Series

Invites you

to attend a presentation on

"Taking trauma out of the shadows and onto centre stage."

Speaker

Dr Cathy Kezelman

Dr Cathy Kezelman is a medical practitioner and mental health consumer. She is a director of Adults Surviving Child Abuse (ASCA) a national organisation working to meet the needs of more than 2 million Australian adults abused as children. She is also a director of MHCC (Mental Health Coordinating Council, NSW) and a foundation member of the Advisory Working Group advocating for a National Strategy around Trauma Informed Care and Practice. In 2010 Cathy published her own memoir, Innocence Revisited - a tale in parts, a journey of recovery from complex trauma. She is a prominent voice at conferences and in the media, advocating for greater recognition and informed responsiveness to trauma.
